

PIEDMONT SURGICAL CLINIC
THE EXPERIENCE YOU AND YOUR DOCTOR CAN TRUST FOR THYROID AND OTHER ENDOCRINE SURGERY.

The Piedmont Surgical Clinic specialists have extensive experience with the surgical treatment of endocrine disorders. Our surgeons perform the vast majority of endocrine surgeries at CMC-Northeast and at the Gateway Ambulatory Surgical Center. They treat approximately 100 patients each year who need evaluation or surgical treatment of the thyroid, parathyroid or adrenal glands.

Our surgeons work in close partnership with local endocrinology specialists and with primary care physicians whose patients need workups and/or surgical care.

Endocrinology surgical services at Piedmont Surgical Clinic include:

Thyroid surgery

The thyroid is a butterfly-shaped gland at the front of the neck that regulates the body's metabolism. Thyroid surgery may be needed for:

- Thyroid nodules – abnormal growths or lumps on the thyroid.
- Thyroid cancer that requires removal of the thyroid gland.
- An abnormally large thyroid gland (goiter).
- An overactive thyroid that may need to be partially or totally removed.

Parathyroid surgery

The parathyroid glands are four small glands located next to the thyroid. They control the amount of calcium and phosphorus in the blood. Sometimes, one or more of these glands may become enlarged and need to be removed with a surgery called parathyroidectomy.

Adrenal surgery

Your adrenal glands sit above each kidney and produce essential hormones. Surgery is usually performed to remove benign or cancerous tumors. Our surgeons are experienced with traditional adrenal gland surgery, and minimally invasive surgery that is performed through small incisions instead of long incisions that can take longer to heal.

Compassionate, attentive surgical care.

At Piedmont Surgical Clinic, it's important to us that you feel comfortable and confident about the care we provide. Your surgeon will take time to explain the details of your treatment and will personally care for you from start to finish.
